TO THE LADIES. THE WHEELING

We're being daily advised of an increase in prices of carpets—There's no telling where prices may end—In every circular that carries the announcement of an increase there is a manifest uncertainty about future figures on goods—As yet there's no limit to the increased prices, and what's worse there's no knowing what the limit will be. Everything depends on the market, which is faverish and has an upward tendency. The excessive duties on wool created by the new tariff act has caused a big increase in prices—Wool has undoubtedly increased in value and everything that it enters into will as a consequence be dearer—We foresaw the fate of the McKinley bill—We anticipated its effects and sourd—We anticipated its effects and sow advantage of the market—We bought goods 20 per cent cheaper than we could buy to-day—We bought in large quantities—Thousands of dollars to compations—Buying at an opportune time and in large quantities for spot cash, not only enables us to soil at the old figures, but leaves us a margin for reductions—What we saved in our heavy purchase will be saved to our customers—Beginning to-day we will offer special reductions in carpots—This reduction is general and applies to no particular grade—Royal Wiltons—Wilton Velvets—Moquets—Body and Tapestry Brussels in the most exquisite designs and richest colors, as well as lugrain Carpets in the most undern and pleasing patterns—Rich in colors and artistic in effect are all included—Carpets of every conceivable quality at reduced prices is what we offer for the week in this department, well-fills and process of the week in this department, well-fills and process in figures for special reduced prices is what we offer for the week in this department,
